- Represent the firm at project meetings, site visits, and events.
- Establish a client base in the area, targeting all sectors and fee ranges.
- Project manage and complete structural design and detailing.
- Perform quality assurance tasks (review calculations, drawings, reports).
- Interview, recruit, and manage staff as needed by instruction of the MD.
- Perform technical and feasibility studies, analysing data to create civil engineering projects.
- Manage major and minor design work from conception to completion.
- Use engineering computer software such as Site 3D to develop detailed project drawings.
- Assign and co-ordinate tasks with internal and external team members.
- Train and mentor junior engineers.

To be successful, you must have:

- Bachelor's degree in Civil or Structural Engineering (Master's preferred).
- A minimum of 8 years of progressive experience in civil engineering, with a strong focus on building structure projects.
- Demonstrated expertise using either Site 3D or Civil 3D.
- Proven track record of successfully managing multiple projects and maintaining project budgets.
- Exceptional communication skills and strong leadership abilities to manage and guide a team.
- Commitment to promoting sustainability and efficiency in design.

The Package

- Salary up to £75,000.
- Hybrid working to the London or Manchester offices
- 25 days annual leave plus bank holidays
- Private healthcare
- Company pension scheme
